THE HAWK

1965

Our senior class is the first to go all three years in the new building; we feel that we are the first who can truly say, "This is ours."

Just as a young child's personality is developed early in life, Mid-Prairie's personality is in the making. We are proud to have played a vital role in what Mid-Prairie is now and will continue to be. Although the Class of 1965 will be forgotten, our mark on Mid-Prairie will never vanish.

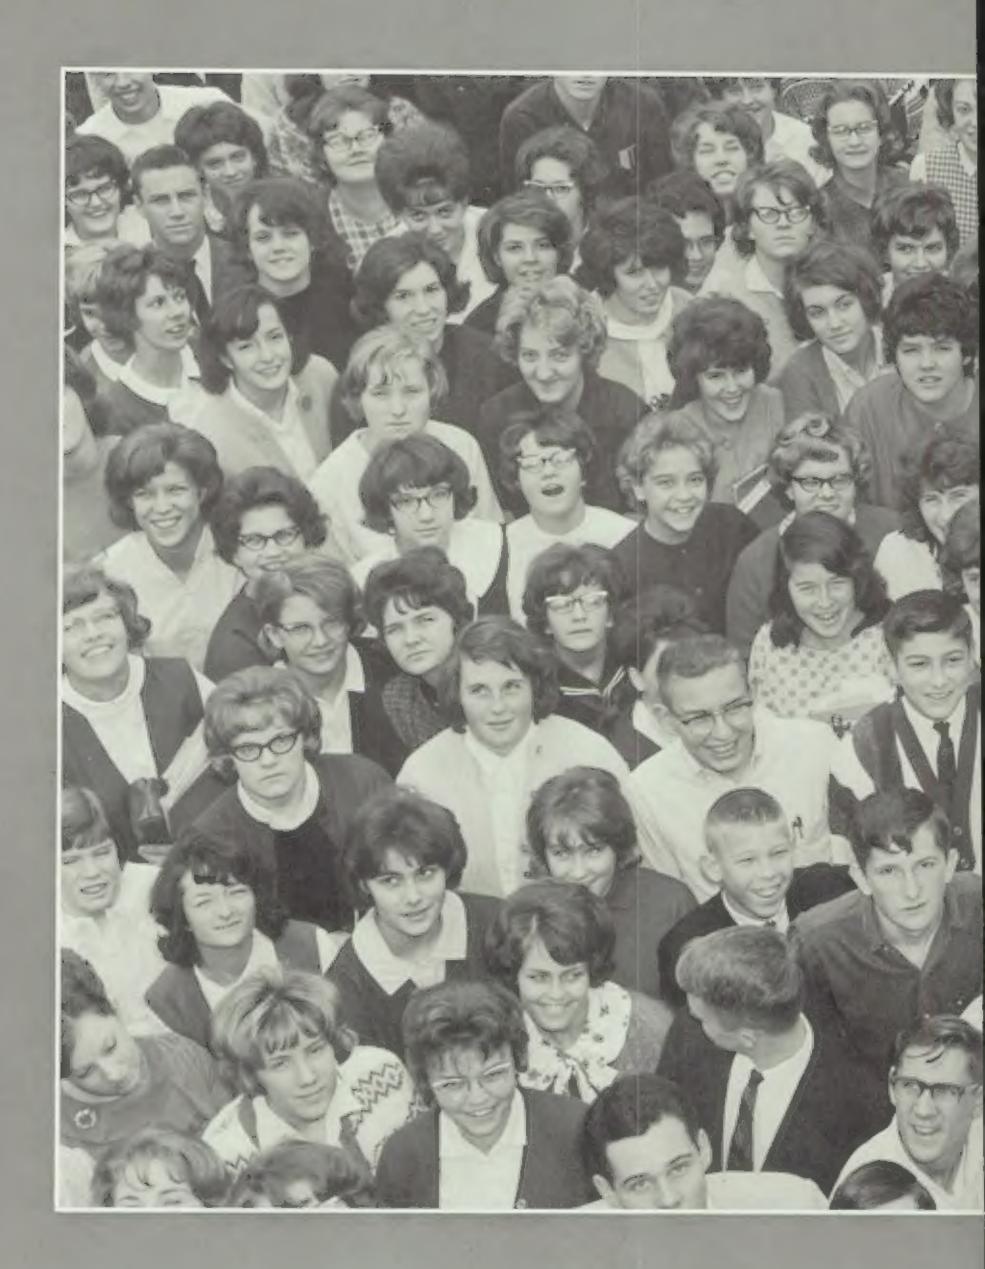

But Mid-Prairie doesn't belong only to us, the Class of 1965. It belongs to the Classes of 1966 and 1967 who have also had a hand in its making. And it will belong to all the future classes as completely as it now belongs to us.

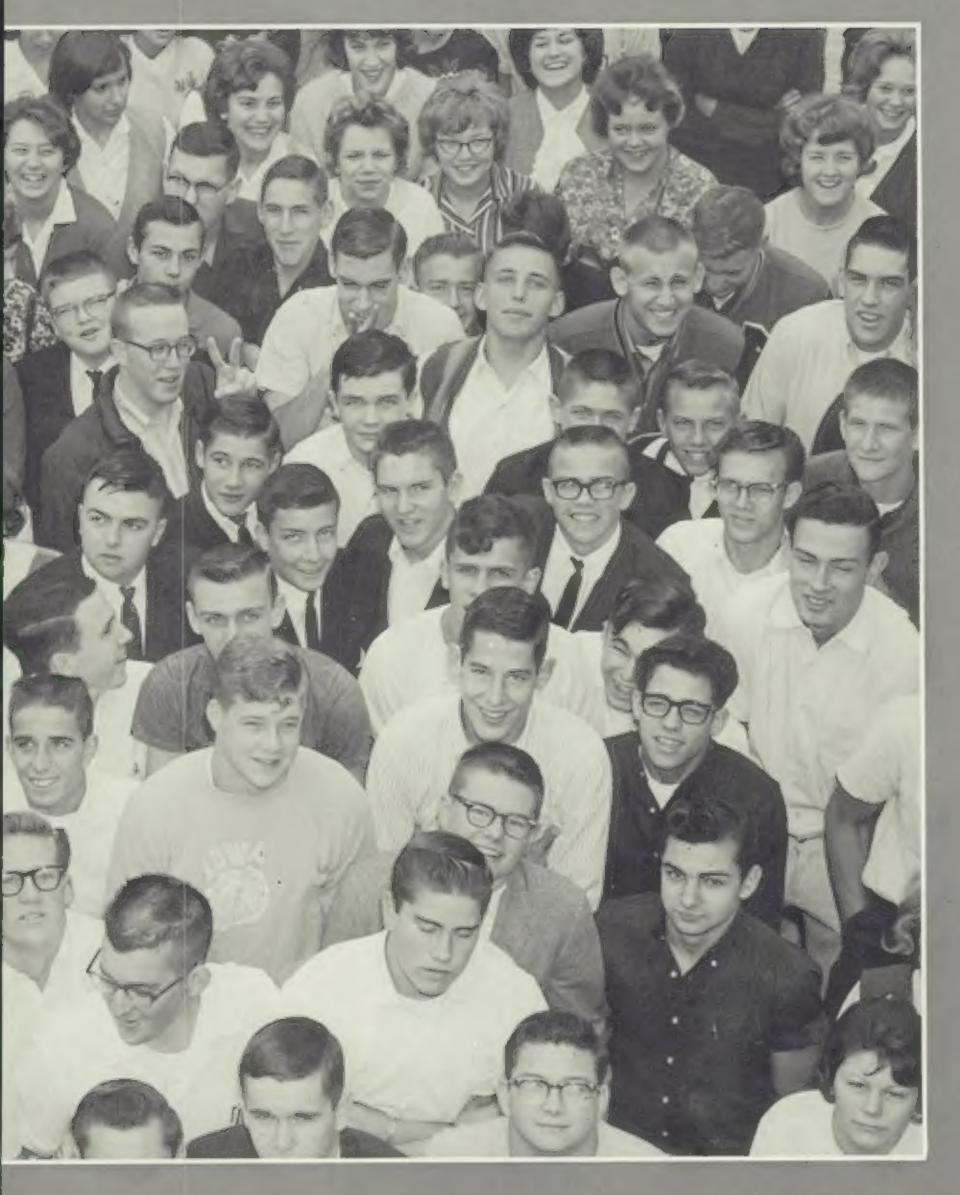

The Hawk Staff wishes to share with you our year at Mid-Prairie through pictures and copy. The building, the buses, the people, the events, made up a major portion of our lives. We are proud to be able to call these things.

OFFICE STAFF

Mid-Prairie's office staff has been an invaluable and to the students. The main office houses the offices of both the Superintendent, Mr. Bill Clark, and the Principal, Mr. David Ripley. Mrs. Betty Jo Murphy has served as secretary to Mr. Clark for the past two years. Miss Lola Marner has been the school secretary since 1959.

A new addition to the staff this year was Mr. John McDowell, secretary of the board of education. His office was located at the end of the west carridor

Mr. Gerald Graf, who has been here since the beginning of the district, was head of the bus department. He had charge of transporting students to and from school and various activities during the year. The district emplays 14 regular and four substitute bus drivers who are all responsible to Mr. Graf

SOCIAL STUDIES

Mr. Tracy Anderson headed the social studies deportment at M-P. He was assisted by Mr. Sam Osborne, who taught sociology, government, and modern world history. Mr. Anderson taught economics, ancient world history, and readings in American history

Readings is a flexible course in which a program of study is worked out for each individual student. The teaching technique used includes written projects, individual study, and individual discussion sessions with Mr. Anderson.

In the February issue of "Midland Schools," a publication of the lowa State Education Association, the social studies curriculum at Mid-Prairie was cited as one of the outstanding examples of progress made in this area

BUSINESS EDUCATION

Mrs. Evelyn Fordyce was head of the business department at Mid-Prairie. She taught all business education classes, including clerical office practice, shorthand, Typing I, and backkeeping

In November sixteen members of the clerical office practice class visited the school of data processing at Jefferson High School in Cedar Rapids. The students were given an opportunity to operate the I.B M. tabulating equipment and the keypunch

SCIENCE

Our science department is headed by Mr. Shirley Statler, who teaches three sections of chemistry, a physics class, and science seminar. Mr. Gary Peterson teaches physical science

In March, eight students and Mr. Statler attended a science symposium at the State College of lowe in Cedar Falls. Jim Groff won a $200 cash award to use at the college of his choice. He was second place winner of 57 students taking the chemistry examinations

Four students accompanied by Mr Peterson attended the Iowa Science, Engineering, and Humanities Symposium at Iowa City in April. Those attending were Jim Cuddeback, Fred Wright, Matt Mellinger, and Richard Yoder

Mid-Prairie was recognized in the "lowa Science Teachers' Journal" as one of the eleven schools in the state offering an advanced science course.

MATH

Three math courses were taught at Mid-Prairie. Mr. Gary Peterson taught geometry, advanced algebra, and trigonometry. College-bound juniors and seniors who had completed geometry and advanced algebra were eligible to take trigonometry. Analytical geometry was studied during the second semester of the trig course.

The required projects in metal-working class were two copper projects spun on the lathe, two hammered copper projects, three sheet metal projects, a screwdriver and hacksaw, and basic welding for five weeks. Mechanical drawing was open only to seniors.

Advanced shap took on the project of running the cement curb on the track. They finished one-third of the curb and hope to complete it next year. Another new project was the construction of model homes to one-eighth actual size

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

A variety of activities took place in our physical education classes—both indoors and out-of-doors. The newly acquired archery equipment was put to use. Among other activities were square dancing, tumbling, and jumping rape.

Classes were tested several times during the year on the rules of various sports. Notebooks were required, containing reports on famous athletes, newspaper clippings, and anything else pertaining to physical education

VARSITY FOOTBALL

During the 1964 football season the Golden Hawks participated, for the first time, in the Eastern Iowa Hawkeye Conference, finishing in second place with a 5-1-1 record

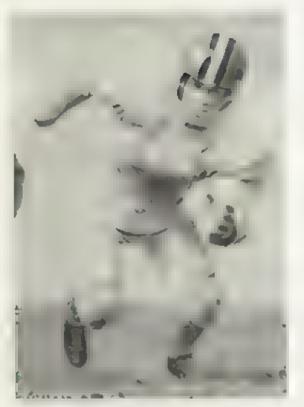

This was quite a remarkable feat since the seniors, who formed the nucleous of the team, had never experienced any kind of winning season. They had a record of 0-5 as freshmen, 0-4 as sophomores, and as juniors were members of a team that finished the season with a 2-7 mark

A first in Mid-Prairie history was the fact that four linemen scored this past year. Terry Mangold, Steve Walker, and Jerome Yoder scored touchdowns. Lindy Brinning scored a safety in the first game against Cardinal

A high point of the year was playing the first game of the season on the new football field using the lights donated by the Booster's Club. Fred Lefever started and finished his senior year of football that night when he dislocated his shoulder. The remaining games were played on the old field because of turf problems.

Team captain and most valuable player, Ward Nefenegger proved his obday as offensive right guard and defensive corner man in leading end run plays and making key interceptions and tackles throughout the season

COMMENDABLE SEASON

Although our Golden Hawks were only in their second year in the Eastern lowa Howkeye Conference, they compled a commendable record, finishing in the upper division. The Hawks finished fourth in the EIHC with an 8-6 conference record, overall, they were 10-7 for the season

Lindy Brinning, a junior, led all scorers with a total of 216 points. He also tied for first with Jerome Yoder for 167 rebounds

Jerome, senior center, made first team all-conference and received honorable mention in the State, while Steve Kelley, junior, Doug Goschke, senior, and Lindy received honorable mention in the Conference. Jerome, team captain, was the first Mid-Prairie Golden Hawk to make first in the EHC in bosketball

Predictions of good things to come have been set off by this year's sophomore basketball team as they brought the season to a close with a commendable 11-2 record.

THINCLAD

Head Coach Parman and his assistant coaches, Mr Osborne and Mr. Hickman, spurred our Thinclads on to a record-breaking season. We placed third in the Conference Indoor Meet at lowa City and third in the Conference Outdoor Meet at Witton Junction.

On April 9, at the Washington Relays, Tom Slockett set a new record in the 100 yard dash with the time of 10:1.

Our distance man, Ward Niffenegger, set a record in the mile with the time of 4.40 at the Drake Relays

Tom Slockett, Jim Cuddeback, Gary Kos, and Junior Acord were record-breakers in the 400 yard relay at the Trojan Relays with the time of 45:8. Also on May 17, the time of 3:38 3 set a new record for the mile relay team, which included Bill Martin, Jan Skola, Jim Cuddeback, and Tom Slockett

Our two-mile relay team (Jerry Strabala, Fred Wright, Jan Skola, and Pat Durian) set a record at Wilton Junction with the time of 8 59 6.

Next year, we will have 14 returning lettermen, only four of them seniors. Our team will miss the dependability of our graduates—Tom Slackett, Tom Gingerich, and Ward Niffenegger.

ACTIVITIES

As part of his duties as Student Council President, Tom Slockett discusses with Principal Ripley, suggestions from the suggestion box

STUDENT

The Student-Faculty Council serves as a link between students and the administration; aids in the solution of social, financial, and administrative problems; encourages active student membership in M-PHS; and promotes the school's reputation.

This year the Student Council sponsored Homecoming activities and the Christmas Prom, organized and revised the present constitution, sent representatives to the State Convention at Ames, supervised and analyzed the various suggestions and complaints taken from the suggestion box, added about $50.00 a month to its treasury in the form of proceeds from the pap machine, and purchased a television set for the school

The Council's major goal remains to make it possible for M-PHS to have a foreign exchange student in the near future.

HONOR SOCIETY

Students in the National Honor Society are selected by the teachers. Selection is based upon the qualities of scholarship, service, leadership, and character. To be considered for member ship a student must maintain a "B" average throughout his high school career

At the end of the 1st semester, eight seniors and four juniors were initiated into the organization. Under the guidance of Mrs Tom Fordyce and Mr. Gary Peterson, a dinner at the Captain's Table in Washington was held in honor of the new initiates on March 23

Serving as officers were Diana Reif, president; Ron Mc-Clellen, vice-president; Tom Slockett, secretary, and Bonnie Bombei, historian

In May, the members honored the alumni at a banquet at the Kalonial Town House in Kalona. Thirty-five attended the banquet

The summer of 1964 saw the yearbook staff editors busy at work. They are responsible for planning page sequence, page layout, and pictures

Within the first few weeks of school the staff was organized into business and editorial divisions. The nine head editors and Mr. Tracy Anderson, our advisor, met at a pizza party to discuss the coming

Instead of the traditional Monday night meetings, our staff decided to meet after school. Several members stayed almost every night throughout the entire school year.

In October, Mid-Prairie was host at the South East Iowa District Inter-Collegiate Press workshop. The purpose of this workshop was to teach the do's and don'ts of yearbooks

NEWSPAPER STAFF

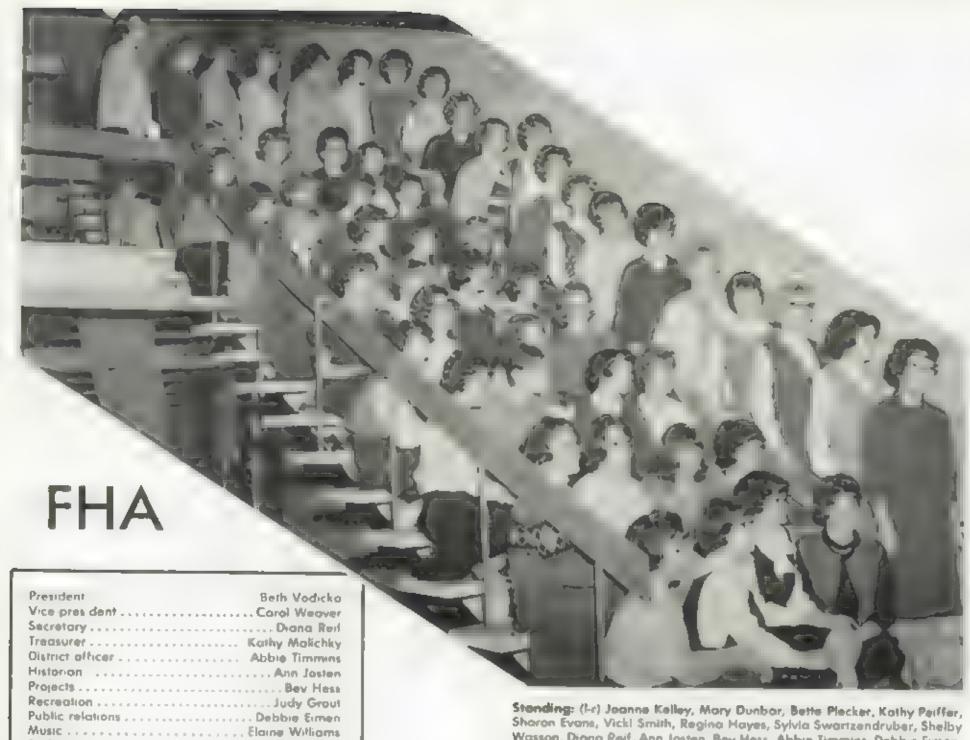

The "Gold Feather" was a mimeograph paper printed monthly by the staff. The co-editors were Virginia McDowell and Diana Reif. Kathy Malichky and Judy Grout were production editors, assisted by Beth Vodicka

Twenty-three members of the staff and our faculty adviser, Mrs. Evelyn Fordyce, attended the lowa High School Press Association convention on October 13 in Iowa City. They attended classes in journalism, including feature writing, editorials, and newspaper layout

The Mid-Prairie chapter of the Future Homemakers of America began the year with the district convention, which was held at Mid-Prairie. Approximately 425 girls and sponsors attended. Presiding at the business meeting and installation was Virginia McDowelf, District President. Abbie Timmins was installed as the 1965-'66 District Representative. The highlight of the day was the speaker, 17-year-old Solveig Nielson, an exchange student from Norway attending Iowa Mennonite School

Twenty-two new members were initiated into the organization. They were entertained by the executive council at a pizza party in November

The chapter held condy sales twice a month during the noon hours. The money for these was used to help pay for the Sweetheart Swirl, which was held in April. The 1965 sweetheart was Judy Grout, attended by Nancy Mangold and Joanne Kelley. The students danced to the swining sound of the Stompers

The mothers of the girls were honored at the Mother-Daughter Tea in May. The 1965-'66 officers were initiated at the tea and Mrs. Marion Timmins, chapter mother, was recognized. Home economics projects made by the girls were displayed in the home economics room.

The year ended with the 1965-'66 executive council entertaining the senior FHA members at an informal party in the student center

FFA

The objective of our FFA chapter is to help stimulate the members in their work and study toward successful establishment in farming as an occupation

The activities that are included in our FFA program are varied. Each activity strives to develop leadership and promote agriculture in the community. FFA has undertaken a corn harvest safety compaign, rodent control program, experimental confinement hag feeding program, and refreshment stands during the year We have participated in livestack judging contests, FFA contests, state leadership conventions, and a corn raising project

In the spring the chapter joined the nation in observing FFA week with "Agriculture—Our American Heritage," as the theme for a local campaign to promote agriculture

Under the guidance of Mr. S. S. Stattler. Mid Prairie's Future Teachers of America learned ways of becoming better teachers. The group met once a month in the science room and had a variety of programs. Tranging from talks by former teachers to discussion groups about colleges.

n October we participated in the district meeting at Mount Pleasant. Jim Groff represented us by running for district president.

This year lower State University was chosen as the state school to attend on Prospective Teachers Day. We attended sessions related to our teaching fields as well as visited the campus.

Former members were invited to attend the Christmas meeting and tell of the ricollege experiences.

The sen or members visited other schools to observe the teaching methods used. We also had seniors from other chapters visit Mid-Prairie

In April, Teaching Career Month, we put up a bulletin board to encourage other students to consider the teaching profession.

To give each member more to work far, a point system was drawn up whereby each person earning 50 points would receive a pin

CHESS CLUB

Mid-Prairie's Chess Club was started three years ago by Mr. Tracy Anderson Although few knew how to play chess then I has since become popular among the students

A chess ladder was set up according to a point system. All members started with 1000 points. At the conclusion of each ladder game, the players adjusted and recorded their ratings on individual cards, according to the Adjustment Table. Top scarer of the year was Randy Allen.

LIBRARIANS CLUB

Librarians Bonny Allen and Trudy Butterbaugh sign out a magazine for Mike Curl as Donna Hazel ton and Rita Heath sign in from study ball

Twenty librarians were chosen by Mrs. Wagamon to serve during one of their study halls. All were kept busy keeping order in the library, signing out books and magazines, and helping other students find needed materials

Magazines are kept in the magafile for five years, in easy access to students. The card file makes book finding quick and easy

Out of about 2000 books, 45 maga zines monthly, two weekly and six daily newspapers, we lost only six books and eight magazines

Fines are higher than in many libraries. Reserved books cost two cents a period; all others cost five cents a day Money received from these fines is used to purchase new books. Using this money, plus some donated by the Latin
Club, we were able to purchase 300
books last summer

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

Six vars ty cheerleaders were elected by the student council in the fall Tryouts were open to all junior and senior girls. The six elected for the 1964-65 season were (top. Lr.) Bev Kinsinger, Judy Grout, Marcia Swain, (bottom. Lr. Joanne Kelley, Cheryl Miller, and Terry Slockett. The substitute was Bette Plecker.

These six girls have worked with the pep club to promote school spirit principally through pep meetings. They sponsored an after game dance to finance new uniforms, which they hoped to have for the 1965-'66 season.

Like the varsity, four junior varsity cheerleaders are elected every September by the Student Council. These girls cheered at all sophomore football and basketball games; they also cheered with the varsity at Homecoming and usually one pep meeting during the basketball season. The junior varsity squad worked very hard this year and certainly served to keep the varsity cheerleaders on their toes.

PEP CLUB

As stated in its constitution the purpose of the Pep Club is "to create a love of sports; to faster the ideals of sportsmanship; and to promote school spirit among ourselves, this organization, and the student body."

In order to accomplish these goals several skits were presented at pep meetings before home games Especially popular were our versions of the Jackie Gleason show with the "June Hawkette Dancers:" operations by Dr. Golden Hawk, and a unique Christmas choral concert. NSPMPSS*, an unofficial sub-organization of pep club was started during basketball season

All members were encouraged to wear their sweaters when attending home games. To help make it possible to outfit the entire club, seniors who did not wish to keep their sweaters sold them

Much time and effort were spent in revising the constitution. In this way, it was hoped that new ideas and regulations would strengthen the club's activities

MARCHING BAND

The Marching Hawks, under the direction of Mr. Bob Gastan and led by Nancy Mangold, spent a busy fall preparing for their perform ances. The band marched at all home football games and participated in the State College of Iowa Band Day in October.

Though they arrived too late for the '64-65 marching season, the new uniforms were displayed when the band marched Memorial Day.

BAND

This year the band members, music boosters, and residents of the school district conducted a fund drive for new uniforms. The drive, completed during February, brought in over $10,000

New equipment purchased included marching band drums, a bass drum, dance band drums a trap tree suspended cymbals, concert crash cymbals, concert costanets, and a reed machine

As part of the December Fine Arts Festival the band, with its guest artist Mr. James Caffin of the State College of Iowa, presented a Christmas concert.

For the first time since the organization of Mid Prairie, the band participated in Class B Large Group Contest where it received a III rating

Small groups enjoyed performing for various organizations in the school district. At small group contest the following ratings were received. Clarinet Chair. II, Percussion Ensemble. II, Clarinet Trio. A. II, Clarinet Trio. B. Iti. Plano solo, Bannie Phillips. III. Clarinet solo, Don Nicholls. II, Flute solos, Barbara Beckman—I, and Susan Kiesey—II.

Our musical, "Ruddigare" by Gilbert and Sullivan, was presented by the "Golden Singers" on March 11 and 13. It was produced in the round on the gym floor

The setting of the production was a fishing village in Cornwall, England during the early part of the nine teenth century. The plot of the story revolved around Rose Maybud, the sweet yet fickle village maiden. All the young men of the village were secretly in love with her, including Robin, a young farmer and Richard, Robin's handsome foster-brother. Rose and Robin were about to be married (see page 54-55) when Sir Despard rudely interrupted the ceremony and declared Robin to be one of the cursed Bad Baronets of Ruddigore. At the end of the second act it was discovered that Robin wasn't really cursed. So he and Rose were happily married

Mid-Prairie Thespians presented Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer prize-winning play "Our Town" October 23 and 24 Through the elimination of scenery the audience was stimulated to use its imagination, while students portrayed movingly a way of life which has been lost in our modern society.

Some people think the play's success lies in the character of the Stage Manager who directs and explains the action, takes the part of a minor character here and there, sets up the simple substitutes for regular properties, takes over his usual responsibilities, and regards the village life with affectionate understanding and quiet humor

The second act concerns the lave offair between George Gibbs and Emily Webb and climaxes in a moving wedding scene

In the third act we were led to the cemetery on the hill, where many of townspeople we came to know so well were patiently awaiting a greater understanding that comes with "something eternal." Emily's experiences there brought out many little-naticed facts about life

HOMECOMING ACTIVITIES

Our thoughts turn to Homecoming—to the many hours spent in preparation for the pep ratly, the game, and the dance—to the many memories we have of that big week-end in October

The Homecoming activities began with a stirring rally including a mack political convention presented by the juniors. Nancy Mangold, M-P's messenger bunny made four attempts to find the egg containing the long awaited election results. For each unsuccessful attempt, master of ceremonies Gary Kos broke an egg on Nancy's head. With the fourth egg came the news that Carol Weaver and Tam Slockett were to reign over the activities. Their attendants were Judy Grout, Kathy Peif fer, Mary Dunbar, Doug Goschke, Terry Mangold, and Jerome Yoder

The last Homecoming game to be played on the old field found fans cheering the Hawks to a smashing 40-26 victory over the U-High Blue Hawks

SWEETHEART SWIRL

The annual Sweetheart Swirl was held on April 2 in the student center. It was jointly sponsored by the FFA and FHA chapters. The FFA nominated six Sweetheart candidates, then the student body elected the Sweetheart and two attendants. Judy Grout was crowned Sweetheart, with attendants. Nancy Mangold and Joanne Kelley.

Judy Grout, 1965 Sweetheart, received a dozen red roses and a necklace from the FFA chapter. Her attendants, Johanne Kelley and Nancy Mangold, received engraved charms

GONE WITH THE WIND

Clocks were set back a century as the 1965 Junior-Senior Prom celebrated "Gone With The Wind" in the true Southern style. On the Tara plantation, tables were set on the lawns in front of a great mansion; the dancing floor was an adjoining garden, where music was provided by Shirley Parter

Negro slaves served the refreshments: Mammy's Puff (cake), Scarlet Nector (punch), Magnolia Blossoms (mints), Confederate Colonels (nuts), and Dixie Delight (assorted fruits)

Students sponsored an all night dance after the prom. They danced to the music of the Stampers at the Wellman skating rink from 2:00 A.M. to 5:00 A.M. Then many couples attended private breakfasts to complete the occasion

THIS IS OURS . . .

The halls, bustling with activity; . . . the classrooms, where we learned everything from ancient history to principles of nuclear energy; . . . the gym, and memories of exciting ballgames where we cheered our team on, whether in victory or defeat; . . the music room, where we spent many hours trying to create harmony; . . . the student center, and memories of everything from vigorous political campaigns to exquisite proms

As seniors we can consider all these things and many more, ours. Other graduating classes will also consider these things theirs. But these memories and others too various to mention will always bind the class of '65 together because . . . they are ours.
